

WATCH: Bold Tween Confronts Obama for ‘Downright Hatred of America’

A politician in the making, 12-year-old CJ Pearson delivered a passionate message to President Barack Obama about what it means to love America.

The middle-schooler posted his video supporting former New York City Mayor Rudy Giuliani’s comments and was catapulted to viral fame.

Within minutes, though, Facebook reportedly suspended his account for “suspicious” activity.

What was so offensive? That this boy suggested Obama acknowledge the assault on Christianity?

Watch the video to see what was so “suspicious.”
