

Watch Christian Attorney Mat Staver Confront Religious Freedom Violations Before Congress

Today, Mat Staver will testify before the U.S. House Committee on the Judiciary's Subcommittee on the Constitution and Civil Justice regarding the state of religious liberty in the United States. The 2:00 p.m. (EDT) hearing will be held in Room 2141 of the Rayburn House Office Building.

You can view the live webcast of today's subcommittee hearing at 2:00 or view archived videos after the hearing. All of these links are available on the House Judiciary Committee website, under Multimedia, "Live and Archived Webcasts."

The threats to religious liberty are unprecedented. The primary areas of his testimony will focus on religious liberty conflicts involving the sanctity of human life, same-sex marriage, sexual orientation, and gender identity.
