

WATCH: Free Speech Demonized by Left-Wing Fascists

The head of Mozilla, maker of the Firefox browser, was forced to step down because he endorsed Proposition 8 in 2008. Brandeis University withdrew an honorary degree from an internationally acclaimed champion of women's rights because of her objection to Islam.

Free speech has been hounded, demonized and shouted down by what some call a new left-wing fascism that will not tolerate any views it doesn't like. For a glimpse into how bad it could become for America, look to Europe.
