

WATCH: Obama Smirks When Asked About Leaving Americans Behind in Iran Nuclear Deal

Three Americans are wasting away in Iranian prison, rumors floated that they would be released as part of the nuclear negotiations. Among the prisoners is Iowa pastor Saeed Abedini.

But a compromise was reached between Iran and the rest of the world, and still the three remain behind bars.

When a CBS reporter called out President Barack Obama at a press conference for the lapse, the commander-in-chief lashed out.

Watch the video to see what he said.