

WATCH: Ron Carpenter Shares Miraculous Marriage Restoration Despite All Odds

After an announcement that rocked the International Pentecostal Holiness Church congregation last year, Ron Carpenter offered hope for reconciliation with his wife in January.

In fact, Carpenter, the pastor of Redemption World Outreach Center (RWOC) in Greenville, S.C., told his church he is working with Bishop T.D. Jakes to bring restoration to his marriage. The news came less than four months after he stood before RWOC and shared his painful journey that led his wife to check herself into a psychiatric-treatment facility.

"To all friends, and most of 'God'... You have been most gracious and merciful," Carpenter wrote on his Facebook page. "Thank you."

Watch the testimony of how God put this broken marriage back together.
