

WATCH: You Won't Believe What This Church Did After Pastor Was Shot

It's not easy being a pastor these days, especially as violence appears to be on the rise.

Pastor Dwayne Shepherd says the Lord is his protector, and was able to hold to that after being shot at in his church parking lot.

He and another pastor were talking about opening a school at the church when someone approached their van and shot at them through a window.

Watch to see how the pastor responded.
