“When faith gets weaker, our country seems to get weaker. When faith gets stronger... good things happen for our country. It’s amazing the way it seems to work that way. Under the Trump Administration, we’re defending our rights and restoring our identity as a nation under God. We are One Nation Under God – and we always will be,” he said.

During his speech, President Trump told the story of a little girl named Hannah Allen from Honey Grove, TX, who organized some friends to pray for an injured fellow student. “The school principal declared that Hannah’s generous act of love was prohibited from taking place in front of the other students. Didn’t like it. The principal didn’t like it, can you imagine?”
