

White House Correspondent Reveals How Obama Was Radicalized

Revealed: Obama's Legacy, written by White House correspondent William Koenig, documents how life in America will never be the same as the consequence of the two-term president.

"I've observed this man for eight years in his White House environment," says Koenig, who is currently available for interviews. "I'm compelled to provide Americans with the truth that hasn't been told about the dire consequences of the Obama presidency that we will be dealing with for generations."

Revealed: Obama's Legacy documents how Obama was radicalized, his pro-Islamic defense, how he is leaving a destabilized Middle East that endangers both Israel and U.S. allies, his destructive actions' impact on the U.S. military's culture, his complete lack of emotion over the persecution and slaughtering of Christians in the Middle East while being very passionate about bringing Middle East refugees to America, and his promoting positions and policies that are hostile to God-fearing Christians and the Bible.

White House news correspondent Bill Koenig is publisher of Koenig – World Watch Daily (), featuring constantly updated stories from a large variety of news sources, and with readers and email subscribers in all 50 states and 105 countries around the globe.
