

White House Time Machine? Deep State Technology, End- Time Prophecies & 'The Trump Code'

I never imagined we'd reach this moment—not in my lifetime.

At a time when the world is teetering on the edge of geopolitical upheaval and technological transformation, the White House has made a claim so staggering that it sounds like it was ripped from the pages of a science fiction thriller—or, perhaps, Bible prophecy.

In a now-viral statement, Michael Kratsios, director of the White House Office of Science and Technology Policy, declared:

“Our technologies permit us to manipulate time and space. They leave distance annihilated, cause things to grow, and improve productivity.”

The announcement, made at the recent Endless Frontiers Retreat in Austin, Texas, was brushed off by mainstream media as aspirational or metaphorical. But for those of us who closely track prophetic trends and deep-state disclosures, the implications are impossible to ignore.

Is this a veiled allusion to purported black-budget programs like Project Looking Glass or Operation Pegasus? Or could it be a public soft disclosure of quantum breakthroughs the world isn't yet prepared to fully grasp?

Prophecy, Technology and The Trump Code

In my bestselling book, The Trump Code: Exploring Time Travel,

Nikola Tesla, the Trump Lineage, and America's Future, I explore the astonishing intersection of science, prophecy, and politics.

The rabbit trail begins with President Donald Trump's uncle, John G. Trump, a highly respected Massachusetts Institute of Technology professor of engineering who was asked by the Federal Bureau of Investigation to examine the mysterious papers of Nikola Tesla following the inventor's death in 1943. What he found—or perhaps concealed—has long fueled rumors of advanced energy sources and exotic technologies, including time manipulation.

With the U.S. Space Force now operational, Elon Musk pursuing planetary colonization, and White House officials speaking openly about bending time, the boundaries between fiction and fact are beginning to blur.

Could we be entering a prophesied era where mankind dares to grasp powers once reserved for the divine?

The apostle Paul may have warned us of such a time in 2 Thessalonians 2:9: "The coming of the lawless one is according to the working of Satan, with all power, signs, and lying wonders."

Newsweek and Daily Mail: Damage Control or Disclosure?

Newsweek quickly attempted to tamp down the alarm, framing Kratsios' remarks as metaphorical—a flourish to highlight how innovation can compress time through efficiency. But they failed to answer a critical question:

Why use such precise, physics-defying language—twice?

The Daily Mail offered a more sensationalist take, quoting Kratsios directly and noting prior Trump administration hints at undisclosed superweapons.

"We have a weapon that no one has a clue what it is. And this is the most powerful weapon in the world, which is more powerful than anyone even close," Trump said Apr. 9.

The Daily Mail story connected dots to Trump's Space Force, Musk's ventures, and speculation around deep-state technologies.

Even media outlets like Futurism called the remarks "bonkers," yet couldn't ignore the viral resonance. Millions are now asking: What if it's not hyperbole?

The Rise of Technocratic Deception

In The Trump Code and Revelation 911, co-authored with Pastor Paul Begley, we explore the prophetic significance of emergent technologies that may be used to deceive, manipulate, and ultimately control humanity.

Revelation 13:13 describes a time when the False Prophet "performs great signs, so that he even makes fire come down from heaven on the earth in the sight of men."

Could today's experiments in AI, quantum computing, and "limitless energy" signal the birth of such wonders?

Tesla believed this energy existed—waiting to be tapped. If tapped now, by hands ungoverned by biblical ethics, could this power become a key tool in the rise of the Beast system?

A source with connections to high-ranking intelligence officials recently contacted me after reading The Trump Code, saying that some of the exotic technologies explored in the book are real.

Time to Discern the Signs

This isn't merely a science story. It's a spiritual wake-up call.

From cryptic public statements to disruptive policy shifts by the Trump administration, we are witnessing a convergence of signs—technological, geopolitical, and prophetic. Whether Kratsios' comments are rhetorical or revelatory, they reveal a deeper truth: the world is preparing for something big.

As believers, we must be ready.

As the battle between deception and truth intensifies, the need for discernment has never been greater.

The church must rise—not in fear, but in understanding. We are the generation witnessing both revival and wonders.

As prophetic voices, we are called to expose the schemes of darkness and point people toward the true light of the world—Jesus Christ.

Above all, stay grounded in God's Word.
