Grace believes we are in a season of decrees and dismantling, where the Lord is exposing corruption, excavating hidden records and forcing the wicked to pay for the restoration of what they sought to destroy. This, she believes, echoes the book of Ezra, where after years of opposition, King Darius issued a decree that not only resumed the rebuilding of God's temple but also commanded that the corrupt adversaries who sought to stop the work fund the project with their own tax money (Ezra 6:8). Grace believes this same principle is at work today, as misappropriated funds and corrupt wealth are being exposed and redirected toward restoring righteousness.

Part of this time of dismantling corruption, she believes, will parallel directly with Passover and the nation of Iran. Right now, she is prophesying that Iran's leadership will face removal around Passover, as the Lord brings down wicked regimes.

“I believe Iran is going to be tempted to make a very foolish move closer to Passover,” Grace says. “That will cause a cornerstone of their leadership to be removed.”

Not only could Iran see major shifts coming, but with the recent discussions around the Panama Canal and the United States’ ability to gain greater control of it, Grace is also highlighting it as a coming major area of geopolitical shaking.

In this moment, God is raising up voices and leadership to stand against the adversaries and push forward His plans. Whether it’s through the dismantling of corrupted systems or the rebuilding of God-ordained institutions, the world is witnessing the fulfillment of prophetic promises. As we move closer to Passover and beyond, the stage is set for a great shift, and God’s people are called to boldly step into their destiny, watching the enemy’s works fall and God’s kingdom rise.

Now, more than ever, is a time to heed prophetic warnings and watch for God’s hand moving in ways that will change the course of nations.
