

Accessing Spiritual Experiences with Jesus

In a profound episode of Live Your Best Life with Liz Wright, international prophet and intercessor Sarah-Jane Biggart shares about accessing spiritual experiences with Jesus. Sarah-Jane tells Liz that when the reality of God's presence became tangible in her life, it made her passionate about helping others step into their own encounters with the Lord! Life-changing encounters with God leave us hungry for more of Him.

One of the key pieces of revelation that God began to reveal to her was that each of us has a spiritual garden. This is an internal, spiritual place where we meet with God. The Lord told Sarah-Jane that when you ask Him to show you your spiritual garden, He can flood you with revelation about your walk with Him, including any hindrances that He wants to remove.

Sarah-Jane believes that seeing and sensing are available to everyone and the Christian walk is not limited to only an intellectual understanding of the Word. Seek the face of Jesus because He is the gateway; He is true north. Sarah-Jane shares that the beginning point of access is focusing on Jesus. Engaging our senses is not about forcing something; it is about resting into God. Every experience we have with Him fulfills us and makes us hungry for more!

It is so important in this time to respond to Jesus' call to come back to His feet. When you meet with Him, let it increase your desire for more of Him and awaken you to the reality of His incredible nature. It's safe to go wherever Jesus takes you so you can be courageous and explore the new things that He's doing. There is a grace in this season to turn your heart toward Him and to let Him take you into the most extraordinary experiences. {eoa}
