

Amanda Grace: A Prophetic 'Double Portion' Is Coming as the 9/11 Window Intensifies

As America approaches the 25th anniversary of 9/11 and the biblical calendar turns toward Rosh Hashanah, Amanda Grace says believers should pay close attention. According to Grace, the convergence is part of a much larger pattern. She believes this timeframe stretches through 2027 and ultimately points toward a defining spiritual moment for the church and the nation.

In a live interview with Charisma, Grace explained that she has been watching what she calls a prophetic "9/11 window" from 2025 through 2027.

"President Trump was the 45th president. He's now running to be the 47th," Grace recalled. "Four plus five is nine. Four plus seven is 11. 911."

Grace said she subsequently noticed the same pattern between 2025 and 2027, with the 25th anniversary of the Sept. 11 terrorist attacks falling directly inside that window.

But Grace believes the convergence with Rosh Hashanah is something Christians cannot afford to overlook.

As the Jewish calendar turns to 5787, Grace says the number seven carries imagery connected with the Hebrew letter zayin, which she associates with a sword or crown. With two sevens appearing in 5787, she believes the imagery points toward a season of "double."

"We're going into a time of double," Grace said, describing both "double portions for the people of God" and "double decrees of destruction attempting to go out."

That tension—blessing alongside spiritual warfare—became a central theme of Grace’s message.

To order Amanda Grace’s new book, Brace For Impact, visit .

For believers, she says the biblical picture recalls Elisha receiving Elijah’s mantle and a double portion.

“There is a double portion coming for the people of God,” Grace said. “They’re entering that Elisha time of their lives.”

Yet receiving what God has next may require leaving behind what worked in the previous season.

“The old wine has to be transitioned and removed in order to free the people of God,” Grace said. Many believers, she argued, have been shaped through years of pressure, adversity and faithfulness. Now, she believes God is repositioning them so their gifts can produce something greater.

Grace compared the shift to the biblical transition from Moses to Joshua and Caleb.

“There is a huge dividing line prophetically happening as we enter this time of double,” she said, arguing that Joshua and Caleb were “uniquely equipped for the time in order to take the land.”

And Grace believes 2027 could represent an especially intense point in that transition.

She pointed to the Jewish leap year, the occurrence of what she described as “double Purims,” the major total solar eclipse expected in August 2027 and the anticipated return of the ancient Pergamon Altar following years of restoration work.

“All of this is on a collision course right now for 2027,”

Grace said. "2027 is the back end of the 9/11 window."

Her concern extends particularly to the political atmosphere surrounding the Trump administration.

"2027, I can't stress this enough: critical year for the safety of the Trump administration," Grace warned. "We ain't seen nothing yet, so we're going to really have to pray."

The Pergamon connection also carries enormous spiritual significance in Grace's interpretation. Revelation 2 identifies Pergamum as the place "where Satan's throne is," imagery that has long surrounded discussion of the ancient altar.

To order Jonathan Cahn's new book, The Altar of Pergamon, visit .

Grace pointed to earlier displays involving artifacts and replicas connected with ancient pagan sites and compared the spiritual battle over altars to Gideon's confrontation with Baal.

"The enemy tries to build altars to take areas," Grace said. "God's people are called to tear them down."

Yet Grace's message is not ultimately one of fear.

As Rosh Hashanah gives way to the Days of Awe and Yom Kippur, she believes the appropriate Christian response is consecration, prayer, discernment and a willingness to follow God into unfamiliar territory.

"We are meant to discern the times and seasons," Grace said. "We're being called right now into a depth of walking with the Lord and obedience and trust in Him."

For Grace, the shaking and the blessing are happening simultaneously. What looks like instability may also become the backdrop for divine repositioning.

“Be willing to go where the Lord is asking you to go,” she urged. “Be willing to let go of what He needs you to let go of in this time.”

Because, according to Grace, what lies on the other side could be greater than what believers are leaving behind.

“This is a defining moment for the people of God,” she said. “As the world is shaking, the people of God are going to be receiving this.”

Abby Trivett is a writer and editor for Charisma Media and has a passion for sharing the gospel through the written word. She holds two degrees from Regent University, a B.A. in Communication with a concentration in Journalism and a Master of Arts in Journalism. She is the author of the newly released book, The Power of Suddenly: Discover How God Can Change Everything in a Moment. For interviews and media inquiries, please contact media@.