

Amanda Grace's Stunning 2027 Prophecy: Twin Disasters, Assassination Attempts and Divine Reversals

Prophecies are colliding, and Amanda Grace believes what comes next could arrive in twos.

During a recent appearance on Nino's Corner, Grace laid out a striking prophetic picture of the months ahead, warning that a season of "twins and twos" could bring paired natural disasters, assassination attempts and political upheaval as the world moves toward 2027.

"I believe we're entering a year where everything's going to come in twins and twos," Grace said. "So, you're going to see twin natural disasters, twin assassination attempts."

Grace tied the pattern to the Hebrew year 5787, which begins around the same time as this year's Feast of Trumpets. While she has previously discussed the significance she sees surrounding the convergence of Rosh Hashanah and the 25th anniversary of 9/11, her conversation with Nino took the prophetic picture in a different direction.

According to Grace, the double sevens of 5787 and the Jewish leap year point toward a season marked by doubles. The leap year contains Purim Katan and Purim, something Grace connected to what she described as attempted "double decrees of destruction" requiring "double divine reversals."

But her warning did not stop with natural disasters.

Grace specifically raised concerns about another assassination attempt against President Donald Trump and suggested that political leaders surrounding him could also face danger. She even floated the possibility of a coordinated attempt coming from two directions simultaneously.

The warning became even more pointed when Grace turned her attention toward 2027.

“I think one of the most dangerous and treacherous parts of President Trump’s presidency is the 2-year mark,” she said.

Grace connected her concern to historical patterns involving presidential assassination attempts, including Theodore Roosevelt and John F. Kennedy. Earlier in the discussion, she also pointed to the deployment of the USS Theodore Roosevelt to the Middle East, calling the connection a spiritual “red flag” and emphasizing the need for prayer.

Then there is the eclipse.

Grace highlighted the major total solar eclipse expected in 2027 and its path across areas including Mecca, Benghazi and Spain. She connected the celestial event to the anticipated return of the Pergamon Altar in Germany to public view, which she associates with the “throne of Satan” referenced in Revelation 2.

To Grace, these events are not isolated curiosities. She believes Christians must be watching, praying and discerning rather than dismissing everything unfolding around them as meaningless.

If the enemy intends destruction in doubles, she believes God may have a double portion waiting for His people.

Grace said 2027 could become a season of “intense repositioning,” in which God radically shifts believers into strategic places where they can serve as watchmen and help navigate what is happening in the nation.

"A lot of it is going to change the complete trajectory of their lives in a good way," Grace said.
