

EASTER AWAKENING: Josh Howerton Reports Lakepointe Church Saw 2,772 First-Time Decisions for Jesus

Resurrection Sunday brought fresh signs of spiritual awakening as churches across America reported they were overflowing with way more visitors than the typical Easter weekend, with many services reporting “standing room only.”

One of the most stunning reports came from Josh Howerton, pastor of Lakepointe Church in the Dallas area of Texas. He posted on social media that the response to their gospel presentation “was nothing short of powerful,” with 2,772 people making first-time decisions to follow Jesus.

To order Travis Johnson's new book, [Un]Embarrassed of Jesus, visit .

“The tomb is empty. Jesus is alive. And because He walked out of that tomb, YOU can too,” he posted. “This weekend, we watched God move in a way only He can. Chains broken. Lives changed. Hope awakened. Your story is NOT finished. We are celebrating every single person who stepped into new life in Christ. Lakepointe family, this is what Easter is all about. If God moved in your life this weekend, or in the life of someone you love, tell us in the comments. Let’s celebrate what He’s done!”