

Hidden in Scripture: The Bible's Chilling Warning About AI and Nephilim in the Last Days

We continue to see signs all around us about the end times, and it would appear that artificial intelligence is one of the driving factors for bringing the last days agenda into fruition. However, is it possible that AI is actually discussed in the Bible as a sign of things to come?

In a message by Pastor Otha Turnbough III of Lionheart Church, he details just how AI can be seen in Scripture.

"The angel told Daniel, he said, 'You know you're at the very end because there'll be a technology explosion called AI. That's what the Bible says,'" Turnbough says.

How do we come to this conclusion? It's much more blatant than most people think.

Turnbough then points out that the Bible notes how the statue was then given life.

“That’s called electricity. He said, ‘When the thing came alive, it started speaking arrogantly.’ And then, it says the had the ability to speak, it gave a command that every person that does not receive a mark must die.”
