

Hundreds Flood the Altar at Oklahoma State University in Powerful Move of God

God is moving in mighty and transformative ways in the next generation.

In a post made on X, Pastor Travis Johnson shared a video of students flooding the altar during worship, writing: “Last night at Oklahoma State University, hundreds of students flooded the altar & went all in on Jesus.”

Last night at Oklahoma State University hundreds of students flooded the altar & went all in on Jesus. @Unite__US @PrewettTonya @coach_prewettAU

– Pastor Travis Johnson (@BasedPastorTrav) April 29, 2026

Unite US Founder, Tonya Prewett, also took to Instagram, where she wrote about the event. She said:

5,500 students gathered at Oklahoma State University tonight to lift the name of Jesus. Hundreds stood and made a decision to go all in with Jesus. And later came forward to worship and receive prayer. We are amazed by the number of students who experienced freedom and healing. God is moving on college campuses!