Ole Miss Sees 6,000+ Students United in Worshipping Jesus

Thousands of students from the University of Mississippi lifted their voices in worship and praise to Jesus and made public declarations of faith during a massive campus event, a ministry to college students reports.

The Unite US tour hit "Ole Miss" during its latest campus stop on its mission to share the gospel with students across the country.

The ministry reports nearly 6,600 students packed out the Sandy and John Black Pavilion Oct. 10, to worship, pray and to hear the gospel.

Jailed Christian Issues Warning: Beware the Jezebel Spirit

Bevelyn Beatty Williams, a pro-life activist sentenced to 41 months in federal prison for protesting at the entrance of a New York City abortion clinic, is using her platform to warn about what she calls the "Jezebel spirit" in American politics.

Williams was convicted under the Freedom of Access to Clinic Entrances Act for her actions in 2020 and began her sentence this week after an unsuccessful appeal.

Despite her circumstances, Williams remains vocal about her faith, particularly her concerns regarding leadership in the U.S. government. In a post on X (formerly Twitter), she encouraged her supporters to vote against leaders who promote injustice and oppose biblical principles. "Please don't forget to vote and do all you can to elect leaders who stand for justice," she wrote, urging Christians to be "the beaming light that you were called to be."

Police Detain Pastor Over Comments on Islam

A U.K. pastor was arrested and held in prison for 13 hours after he compared Christianity and Islam outside of Bristol University. According to police, the incident occurred during Ramadan.

Pastor Dia Moodley was street preaching in March when he was approached by a man who asked a question. Moodley told the man that there are "differences between the moral standards of the God of Islam and the Christian God," Alliance Defending Freedom U.K. explained.

Moodley also expressed his view in binary sex, describing that God created humans male and female.
