

New Resource Brings Hope to Reunite Churches Around the Globe

In an age marked by chaos and disunity, a new resource by Pastor Steve Robinson titled “Hope Again: Good News for a Broken World” has exploded in popularity, as churches around the world have embraced this six-week spiritual growth campaign focused on the power of the gospel.

Birthered out of a deep desire to resource and equip the church in a time of desperate need, Pastor Steve Robinson has created a new resource to help unite, strengthen and reach people with the power of hope. He is the founder and senior pastor of Church of the King, a multi-site church across six physical locations along the Gulf Coast, as well as an online campus.

“People are world is broken. There is only one thing that will unite and strengthen us, and that’s the hope found in the gospel of Jesus Christ,” Robinson remarked during a recent television interview. His ultimate passion is to see people far from God reached and disciplined into fully devoted followers of Christ—this is the heartbeat behind Hope Again.

“Hope Again: Good News for a Broken World” is a six-week spiritual growth campaign focused on the transforming power of the gospel. Pastors, churches and individuals from all backgrounds are invited to participate in this spiritual journey, with free resources available that are designed to unite and strengthen churches and individuals globally.

With small group videos and lessons, weekend resources as well as an engaging daily devotional, “Hope Again: Good News for a Broken World” is a focused resource centered around the first eight chapters in the book of Romans to help the church find and unite around the hope of the gospel. Starting in January, Robinson began leading his church, Church of the King, through this study with more than 10,000 people participating in 1,000 small groups.

Robinson has two decades of experience with successful spiritual growth campaigns. This new study was written from his inspiration to unite churches, strengthen faith and bring stability to families, churches and communities in the aftermath of the COVID-19 pandemic.

“I’ve always been impressed with Steve Robinson’s deep theological understanding and insight into the Bible,” shares Dino Rizzo, executive director of the Association of Related Churches (ARC). “His new resource, ‘Hope Again,’ is no exception to this. This amazing guide... provides the keys to overcoming the hopelessness of our broken world.”

“It’s my prayer that you will join us on this journey to Hope Again in 2022,” shares Steve Robinson. Watch a video by Pastor Steve Robinson and download “Hope Again” resources at {eo}
