

Prophetic Vision: The Lord Says, 'I Will Clean the House Once Again'

2020 has undoubtedly been one of the most unusual historic years globally. From our economy, to the uprisings in the streets, down to the pandemic—2020 has changed life as we know it.

One day while sitting in the living room, I heard loud scraping across the floor. Thinking it was my neighbor's children, I initially didn't dwell much on it. The scraping, however, continued to happen for day.

Eventually, I became agitated in the middle of the night and considered going to say something to them. It was then that the voice of the Lord came to me saying, "For it is not man, but it is Me. I'm changing the seats of positions. I'm changing the voices, I'm changing the players, and I'm changing the positions."

One day not long afterward, I was taken up into a vision of a river going through the temple. There was a massive gush of water unleashed from the heavens, seemingly without warning or notice. He spoke again, "I will cleanse the house once again. And I will fill it the fragrance of My glory. The aroma will be sweet, and it will linger."

There's a new day upon us. God Himself comes to wash us again. Through systems, cultures and movements, we will see a new integration with heaven's agenda. We are in the timing of God. New voices will rise from obscure places. In the midst of what seems like dark days, glory days are upon us, and God's day will prevail.

This is the year that charts a new path for many. As a generation and culture of people, we get a chance to experience the shifting of guards, the changing of seasons and the establishing of new systems. Chaos is the absence of God's demonstration. There's a new army arising in glory! For many, God has hidden with a time in mind. That time is now.

As we commemorate the 10-year anniversary of my first book Revelations of a Coming Glory, I urge believers to get it as it will aid them with the faith, courage and hope for the future. The church is not dead, and God's power will be manifested in the days to come.

Tune into this Rivers & Revival Podcast with J.J. Allen titled Hidden Until Now to learn more about the new day that is upon us. {eo}