

Prophetic Word: 'My Grace Is Sufficient' Amid Global Reset, Other End-Times Shakings

We are walking into a time when the “shakings”—the COVID pandemic and loss of freedoms, gun violence surging across communities in America, Russia’s invasion of Ukraine, the growing danger of nuclear war, the World Economic Forum’s “Great Reset” plan and soaring inflation—are intensifying.

The Lord has been speaking to me (Rev. Kevin Jessip) about the hardships the apostle Paul and other followers of Jesus Christ faced during the first century and what believers worldwide are facing in today’s increasingly lawless and chaotic world, and I asked the Lord: “What do I tell people in these times?”

The Lord simply said, “My grace is sufficient for whatever you face.” He is offering us faith, not fear, and that His grace is sufficient for whatever we will face in the months and years ahead.

Today, military officials are warning that developments in synthetic biology are leading to “next-generation bioweapons” that could fundamentally change the nature of warfare, Russia’s invasion of Ukraine has increased the risk that China will invade Taiwan, and a senior Japanese defense official warned that America could face a Pearl Harbor-style attack from Russia and China.

On the economic front, the Federal Reserve has bought up 30% of the U.S. mortgage market and is exploring whether to pursue or implement a central bank digital currency (CBDC), and the global economy may be headed toward the perfect storm with Europe, China, and the United States all entering possible economic downturns at the same time later this year.

Meanwhile, the elites, with the support of some of the world's most powerful corporations, are planning a massive change in the financial system as part of what World Economic Forum Chairman Klaus Schwab described in the middle of the COVID pandemic as the "Great Reset of capitalism."

This was followed in March by President Joe Biden's remarks that we have entered the "new world order" and America must lead the way.

Under the "Great Reset" or "new world order," nations would be expected to surrender sovereignty to an international body of bureaucrats who would issue dictates on taxes, diversity and green policies. Middle-class lifestyles would be curbed as we are told to strive for sustainability and transition to apartments and mass transit. A 2016 World Economic Forum video, "8 Predictions for the World in 2030," noted, "You'll own nothing, and you'll be happy."

Meanwhile, the World Health Organization, with assistance from the Biden administration, is set to vote on a provision that could give the WHO control of the health directives of 193 countries around the world, allowing communist China, which largely controls the WHO, to dictate our national health decisions.

Former U.S. Rep. Michele Bachmann, in an interview on Steve Bannon's War Room show, said that the rise of global authoritarianism predicted in the Bible is occurring.

"This is actually predicted in the Bible, these times that we're living in," Bachmann said. "And what I am seeing is that the Bible is probably the most relevant document on Earth right now because it talks about these times we are living in. It is uncanny."

This global form of government that is prophesied in the Bible is coming about, according to experts, as a result of a six-step plan that began with the COVID pandemic in late 2019 and will culminate with a “Great Reset” of the financial system involving the cancellation of debts, the collapse of financial markets and the bankruptcy of many banks.

This will be followed by the introduction of a digital currency and digital ID such as the “Digital Identity Guarantee Service” (SGIN) just proposed in France following President Emmanuel Macron’s reelection. Les Patriotes leader Florian Philippot said the goal of the digital ID is “to put social credit in the Chinese way.”

‘Great Reset’ and ‘Mark of the Beast’

For those familiar with Bible prophecy (about 2,500 prophecies appear in the Bible, about 2,000 of which have been fulfilled), Revelation 13 refers to the rise of figures in the end times, the Antichrist and False Prophet, who gain power over a global government, economic and religious system that requires people to receive the “mark of the beast” without which they are unable to buy or sell.

The Great Reset plan is not unique. Historically, a reset is defined by changes such as the following:

- When an empire is changed through a cycle of war and peace, war can cancel debt when empires change with an economic reset.
- Economic resets happen when things take place such as the Great Depression that saw President Franklin D. Roosevelt’s New Deal result in the Social Security Act and the concept of a government-regulated economy.
- Resets also happen when new governments are created such as the fall of the Berlin Wall in 1989 and overthrow of Communist rule in the former Soviet Union and Eastern Europe.

This new system revolves around a social credit system such as the one in China and a similar one proposed for America (China's system combines government and business surveillance, giving citizens a "score" that can restrict people from purchasing airline tickets, renting properties or obtaining loans for what are deemed politically incorrect behaviors), Environmental, Social and Governance standards, the banking system, mass media, medical system and food suppliers.

As far as social credit scores, Kristin Tate wrote in her article for The Hill, "Coming soon. America's own social credit system," this disclosure:

"The growth of such (social credit scores), which will only accelerate with support from (usually) left-wing politicians, could create a system in which individuals who do not hold certain political views could be blocked from polite society and left unable to make a living."

The goal of this emerging system amid the Great Reset is to accomplish three things quickly:

- To do away with fossil fuels and implement battery-driven vehicles that can be controlled and shut off at will.
- To do away with all fiat currencies, moving the world to digital blockchain technologies where every transaction is seen and recorded.
- To do away with old beliefs and Christian principles and Judeo-Christian values. {eo}
