

Prophetic Word States God Will Be Releasing His Abundance This Month

In the month of February, God is showing up as the God of more than enough. He is releasing His abundance into areas of struggle and chaos, and healing poverty mindsets in the process. He is bringing truth and hidden things into the light. He is releasing peace in the middle of chaos and restoring our hearts back to intimacy with Him. Be still and know that He is God, and stand on the imminent breakthrough He's bringing to your situation.

In Contradiction to Abundance

"...I have come that they may have life, and that they may have it more abundantly" (John 10:10, KJV).

A poverty mindset is a mindset that is in contradiction to abundance. It can be defined as a belief that there is not enough blessing to go around. This belief often causes us to "make do" and sacrifice what's really best because we believe there is not enough or believe that something isn't available to us. If you've ever felt like there was not enough _____ (money, time, blessings, etc.) for you, then this belief could be rooted in a poverty mindset.

If you grew up in a household where money was tight, scarcity thinking can easily become second nature. This mindset can be challenging to break free from. The truth of the matter is this: You are the child of the Most High God and He has every good thing in store for you. There is more than enough for you to be blessed and to take part in the abundant life. God never intended for His children to just scrape by. Rather, He invites us to trust Him to provide for our every need and even the desires of our hearts.

Leaving Room for God's Best

A poverty mindset is a trap. When we become trapped in this way of thinking, we don't leave room for God's best. Jesus came so that we may enjoy abundant life (John 10:10), but sometimes we have to let go of our own ideas in order to allow God to bring His solutions and His best into our lives. Perhaps you are in a job, a relationship or even a church that is fine but you're not thriving. You want things to be different, but you don't see another way. It could even be what you've always known. Sometimes we get in the way of what God wants to do in our lives. It's time to allow Him to move!

God is awakening the fullness of what He's placed inside of you. Monotony and mediocrity are not where He's taking you. In order to step into the abundance He has for you, you must let go of poverty thinking and step out in faith. If you've resigned yourself to a belief of "this is just the way it is," then you won't be able to see what God wants to bring you. Let go of poverty thinking.

This word is for you if you have felt trapped and you can't see a way out. You know that because of God's goodness there has to be another way, but you don't know what it is or you may know what you wish would happen but have no idea how it could ever happen. If you don't know a way out of your current situation, ask God to show you what He has for you regarding that specific situation. If you do know what He's placed in your heart, but you don't know how to get there, spend time with Him asking Him to show you what faith looks like in your situation. What is your path forward?

Great Exposure Leading to Great Awakening

"Have nothing to do with the fruitless deeds of darkness, but rather expose them" (Eph. 5:11, NIV).

There is a great awakening happening right now among people all over the world. Corruption and evil agendas are being exposed on many levels. Exposure is coming to churches, governments, corporations, education systems and the health industry. Anything that is working against or harming God's people will be exposed. This includes child/sex trafficking, abusive leaders, corrupt pastors and businesses and organizations that have an agenda to harm.

Many people will push against this revelation because it is quite uncomfortable and even jarring to have believed or trusted a person or organization, only to find out that they are corrupt and have deceived many. Lots of people will experience cognitive dissonance. Cognitive dissonance happens when what you are hearing goes against everything you have believed, so you struggle to accept this new truth. Do your own research to discover if what you're hearing is true. Our God is a God of truth, and the truth is coming out.

Guide Us Into All Truth

Discernment, wisdom and grace are available to those who seek Him during this process. Ask God to show you if you are being deceived. Do not discount something simply because you don't want to believe it. It is the time to ask questions, pursue truth and research! Throughout Scripture, God continually speaks about how He will uphold the righteous while the evil come to ruin. These themes are especially prevalent in Psalms and Proverbs and are relevant to us today. Just because we weren't able to see the evil at work doesn't mean it hasn't been operating behind the scenes. The enemy is a great deceiver.

Take the time you need to process what begins to be exposed. Process it with the Lord and ask Him if this is the truth. Jesus Himself promises us in John 16:13 (NKJV), "However, when He, the Spirit of truth, has come, He will guide you into all truth; for He will not speak on His own authority, but whatever He hears He will speak; and He will tell you things to come."

We are God's children and He will lead us if we make room for Him to do so. This shaking will be uncomfortable—especially if we are unwilling to see or if we make things (or people) into sacred cows, refusing to see the truth. However, the end will be glorious!

Anchored to Jesus

God is shining a light on the agendas and people that need to be exposed. He's tearing down the idols that people have created (even unknowingly), like blindly believing the government or their church leader without processing with God or going back to Scripture. Everything that's not truly anchored in Jesus will be shaken. He's providing grace for anyone that seeks the truth.

Revival will come out of this shift and this shaking. Once the darkness is exposed, it will be easier to see people's true allegiance. This word is for those who have been unsettled by things they are hearing and they are troubled by the current narrative. They are asking questions and seeking truth, but they feel a little paralyzed by fear of what they might uncover. This word is also for those who have been pursuing and speaking truth. They have been labeled as conspiracy theorists, activists or extremists simply for speaking the truth (especially when it's unpopular). Keep speaking! The truth will come out. It is time.

I encourage you to ask yourself: Have I been loyal to a person, pastor, government or something I just believed to be true, or was I loyal to Jesus? What does it cost me if I am wrong? There is a dividing line coming and you will have to choose a side: good vs. evil. It may not be as easy as you think. Prepare now and get right with God. It is time to lay down any loyalties you may have other than to Jesus. I encourage you to take the time now to remove from the pedestal anyone or anything you may have elevated over truth. The shaking will cause anything to crumble that's not anchored in truth.

The Perfect Storm

“Be still and know that I am God...” (Ps. 46:10).

Right now, many of you are feeling overwhelmed. It feels like there has been one thing after another coming against you: illness, death, job loss, car trouble, unexpected financial needs, the need to move, frustration, things not moving like they are supposed to due to complications, setbacks and delays. It feels hard, frustrating and unsettling. Many people are weary and exhausted, feeling disconnected from God and in need of a miracle. During times like this (and especially in our fast-paced lives), it can be easy to fill up our precious time with things that feel urgent and important, while leaving out the most important thing—time with God. It’s when things feel so crazy and out of control that we need to prioritize time with our heavenly Father.

In essence, a lot of people are coming to the end of themselves. But that is a beautiful place to be, as it makes room for God to move. We can’t do it all ourselves, but sometimes we lose sight of that fact. Our dependence on self makes us less dependent on God. In countless passages throughout Scripture, God tells us that He will take care of us if we put our faith, hope and trust in Him. Do we really believe that? {eoa}

To read the entire prophetic word, visit .

Texas-born Anne Ballard worked as a nurse for 17 years before fully embracing her creative nature. Having grown up believing that God only spoke through the Bible, her life was transformed with the personal knowledge that He still speaks today. As she experienced a revelation of God’s love for her and the power of words to transform and heal, she began designing jewelry, partnering with Holy Spirit to create a tangible way to bring heaven to Earth. This is where her prophetic jewelry company, The Crowning Jewels, was birthed. Many people recognize her company as a business-ministry hybrid. She is known as a prophetic visionary with the drive to accomplish her dreams. Her mandate is to champion others as they discover their God-given identities and fulfill their divine purposes. After living in Redding, California for 10 years, she recently moved back home and currently resides in Texas.

Read articles like this one and other Spirit-led content in our new platform, CHARISMA PLUS.