

Put on This Prophetic Perspective as You Navigate This Troubling Pandemic

During this global pandemic, we as leaders need a prophetic perspective. It is so easy during times like this to only see the problem, feel the pain of it and feel stuck in a process that has no clear end in sight.

Rather than just looking at the facts, we need to see-through the eyes of faith—a different perspective. There are both practical and supernatural perspectives God wants to give us in this season. We can look at past pandemics, epidemics, recessions and depressions, and gain insight into some of the practical realities that will emerge from this season of uncertainty.

In this episode of the Supernatural Leadership podcast, Shawn Gabie will break down four healthy leadership perspectives for this pandemic, as well as spiritual insights into what God is saying and how we are to position ourselves in this season. Get ready to come out of this pandemic stronger and more confident in the calling over your leadership and life.
