

Spirit-Filled Prophet: The Christian Revolution That Lies Ahead

A rekindling of rage, an ultimate war, will begin between Muslim nations and Israel people. The new ministers of Israel will grate on the Muslim leaders, sparking a period of retaliation upon the Jewish people worldwide.

A younger generation of Christians will begin to turn the course of this (USA) nation into the wind of G-D's Spirit, creating a hunger in G-D's people, establishing the pace for the church involvement in government affairs.

From this generation of young Christians, G-D will raise up a strong alliance of G-D-fearing senators, congressmen and governors being the majority in the House, Senate and State.

The Christian Revolution

Our next commander in chief will be the coiled spring that will catapult this Christian revolution. This commander in chief to-be will not voice his plans of implementing stronger church rights with ultimate power to be assertive in all levels of government. He will remain silent on the issues that will label him as a Christian crusader; however, when he is secured in the highest government office, he will ignite the tempers of liberals and anti-Christian groups.

He will draw a line in the spiritual dirt of evil. The majority of Christians will sweep away the immoral "people's freedom."

The loose-minded will be deafened by the cry of G-D's people for nationalized Christian reform. One by one, the angel of death will take out those who stand for immoral rights.

Leaders of all shades of darkness shall be placed under conviction one last time before entering their eternal damnation. More testimonies of those who have seen heaven and hell will be shared on national television.

Where once the main thought of evolution was fact, it will soon become a myth, replaced with more evidences in the teaching of G-D's creation. The schools shall surely become the breeding ground for Christianity, impregnating the spirit of G-D into the young leaders and nurtured by G-D's appointed servants, disciplining these young warriors with the meat of God's Word.

Wealth Coming Into the Hands of Christian Business Leaders:

Like the high-tide swells, great wealth shall begin to come into the hands of Christian business leaders. Revelations, inventions and high-tech ideas will be birthed in the hearts of those who walk in righteousness, placing the economic control in the camps of those who are trustworthy to expand G-D's kingdom.

The church will see a change in leadership, transferring the ruling rod to the apostles and prophets commissioned to rebuild the church on the foundation of Jesus Christ: the chief cornerstone. With this change a strong bridge of alliance will be built between the church and government. In that day, we will see apostles and prophets walking with high-ranking government officials noted as the eyes and ears of our new revolutionized nation.

These things the Lord has shared with me this day. May we pray and be blessed in it. {eoa}
