

Travis Johnson: Will We Experience Revival in 2025?

In an exclusive interview with Charisma Media, Travis Johnson expressed what he believes the Lord is saying we should be on the lookout for in the coming year.

“...It’s a window of opportunity for revival,” Johnson says. “Really, a revival of the American spirit. I feel like we are going to see a revival of the necessarily spiritually, church revival, but just a renewal and a refocusing, a regripping of the family and a revival of the things good and decent and profitable.”

Johnson says this is a time for going, moving forward in the call of God.