

A Very Merry Iraqi Christmas

On a mission trip to Iraq, Sean Feucht and his team met a beautiful family. The father told Feucht, “My prayer is that my children and all their children would know about Jesus.”

So Sean Feucht said, “Well, we’re going to bring Christmas to you.”

But Feucht didn’t just bring the traditional Christmas festivities; he shared the reason for the season with the entire family—and learned something new in the process. Watch the moving story now.
