

Alabama Principal's 'Can't Touch This' COVID-19 Parody Goes Viral

Educators across the country are making critical decisions about when and how to conduct school this year in the midst of the COVID-19 pandemic. And of course, administration, staff, parents and students alike have deep concerns about safety.

Dr. Quentin Lee, principal of Childersburg High School in Childersburg, Alabama, shares these concerns and chose a unique approach to help ensure his students' safety. His video parody of MC Hammer's "Can't Touch This" has quickly gone viral, with more than 700K views to date.

Lee told Fox News, "I just wanted to provide an opportunity to have a little fun with creativity for my students and with my students, and just to get them prepared for all the new guidelines that we have coming up in the midst of COVID-19."

Enjoy Lee's creative approach and, no matter where you're headed, stay safe and remember: You can't touch this. {eo}
