

Amy Grant, Lecrae Team Up With Megachurch to Bring Christmas Joy

Christmas will look a lot different this year for many people, so Crossroads Church is bringing some hope, joy and good news through a Christmas special starring Grammy Award-winning artists Lecrae and Amy Grant.

“I love how music brings us together and reminds us of good times and gives us strength for tough times,” Grant said.

The special features original performances from both stars, along with Christmas classics and new tracks from Crossroads Music, paired with dynamic on-location teaching in the desert from senior pastor Brian Tome. A special performance from Broadway dancers also brings a piece of the Christmas story to life.

The special is available to stream anytime during the Christmas season here.
