

Are Kim Clement's Prophecies Over France Coming to Pass After Notre Dame Fire?

Prophetic voice Kim Clement shared many words he had for Paris and France before his death.

"A war will take place," Clement says in a video posted by his daughter to YouTube. "It will be short-lived because as France destroyed the power of invasion from the Middle East in the seventh century, so shall it rise up and destroy the invading forces of the Beast of the East."

Clement prophesied there would be a second reformation in Europe that would begin in France that would affect all the tribes of the earth.

But that's just the beginning. Watch the video and discern for yourself if this is coming to pass.
