

Beloved Worship Leader Debuts Stunning New Single Birthed After a Time in Prophetic Worship

When the giants are staring me down/ And my heart is full of doubt/ I run to You, I run to You/

When the mountains are in my way/ I will stand right here and say/ I won't be moved, I won't be moved

So goes the intro to Michelle Schorp's new single, "Fight for Me."

Schorp leads worship at The Exchange in Nashville as well as at women's events and other churches around the country. She often flows in the prophetic, and the single was birthed after an afternoon spent in prophetic worship.

"There is beauty when we sing songs to the Father in one voice, with one purpose, to lift His name high," Schorp says.
