

Bethel Worship Leader Goes Solo, Rocks Out in Eye-Popping Video

Bethel worship leader Steffany Gretzinger recently released her new solo album, Blackout. While she's still singing songs of worship to God, the music video for the title track clearly demonstrates she's going a different, more rock-infused direction on her solo work. Do you like it? Check out the video and share your thoughts below.