

Bill Johnson: 'I Don't Want People That Have Power But No Character'

Bill Johnson says he wants to raise up people who have both good character and supernatural power to live it out. He also addresses the issue of darkness, commenting that the proper approach to darkness is not fighting it but turning on a light. Hear his full thoughts in this short video teaching.