

Bill Wiese Shares Another Reason We Should Fear Hell

God gave me a vision of hell, which I wrote about in my book, 23 Minutes in Hell. One of the things I experienced was the most intense darkness I have ever seen.

At one point in my vision, I crawled out of the prison cell where I was first placed and encountered complete blackness. It was so dark I could actually feel it. It was not simply the absence of light. It had a distinctive evil presence—a feeling of death that seemed to penetrate every cell in my body. Each of us could only imagine being in that kind of terrifying dark for all eternity, never able to see another person or thing.
