

Billy Graham Boldly Tells Room of Tech Execs: Technology Can't Solve Evil

Billy Graham was never afraid to give bold messages, even to inconvenient audiences. In this 1998 TED Talk, Graham tells a room full of technology executives that technology alone can't fix the three biggest problems facing the world. Twenty years later, his words still ring true. Watch the video to find out why he received a standing ovation for this short sermon.