

Blessing in Disguise: Israelis Celebrate 'Snow Holiday' in Jerusalem

The Old City is blanketed in white for the first time since 2013.

Snow covers the old bricks of Jerusalem, leaving Israelis to celebrate what they are calling a "snow holiday" in Jerusalem.

Who needs sleds when you have recyclable products for a night of wintery fun?

Watch this video from our content partners at CBN News to celebrate with our Jewish brothers and sisters.

☐☐Rare #snowstorm covered #Jerusalem in white. #Israelis seized the moment to play all night in the rare #snow. Creating makeshift #sleds out of plastic bags, boxes and anything they could find! Some were calling it a blessing and saying "Happy Snow Holiday!"☐☐
