

Brooklyn Tabernacle Choir Releases First Music Video From No. 1 CD

After debuting its new CD at No. 1 on the iTunes Christian and Gospel Albums chart, six-time Grammy Award-winning Brooklyn Tabernacle Choir has released its first music video of the project's title track, Pray. The choir's director, Carol Cymbala, says the title track was chosen for an important reason.

“‘Pray’ is a ballad sung by Timiney Figueroa and it inspires people to look away from their problems and give them to God at the throne of grace,” Cymbala. “We chose the song as the title of the CD because the Bible says God’s house shall be called a house of prayer.

“Teaching music, and worship are all important, but I truly believe we need more prayer in our lives and in our churches. Through prayer, anything is possible and we want to encourage everyone, everywhere to pray.”

The Brooklyn Tabernacle Choir has performed at major music venues such as Radio City Music Hall, Carnegie Hall, and Madison Square Garden. In addition to their six Grammy Awards, the Choir has been honored with seven Dove Awards (Gospel Music’s Grammy equivalent), two No. 1 Billboard charting CDs and over four million albums sold.

You can watch the music video here. For more information, visit .