

Update: Trump to Participate in Prayer Call for Nation Tonight on Facebook

With the presidential election only 23 days away—perhaps the most crucial presidential election in American history—President Donald Trump himself will take part in a call by charismatic kingdom leaders Sunday evening for the nation to pray for our country in a national internet campaign.

The prayer call is set to begin at 5 p.m. ET Sunday. To join, log on to \DonaldTrump.

The prayer call will be hosted by Trump's daughter-in-law, Lara Trump, and will feature charismatic leaders Paula White-Cain, Darryl Strawberry, James Robison, Pastor Samuel Rodriguez and Joni Lamb.

Lara Trump urges all believers to participate in the call and to pray for the very soul of our nation as the Trump campaign attempts to fend off Democratic candidate Joe Biden on Election Day, Tuesday, Nov. 3.

On Saturday, news outlets reported that Trump, who was recently diagnosed with COVID-19 and spent several days in the hospital, says he is "feeling great" and that doctors say he is no longer at risk of spreading the virus. He told supporters, "Get out and vote—and I love you." {eoa}
