

Christian Artist Matthew West Releases New Song Titled 'Quarantine Life'

Christian singer/songwriter Matthew West released a new music video performing a song titled "Quarantine Life." About loneliness and longing to go back to normal, the song has a mix of humor and honest encouragement. Filmed entirely in his house, the video shows West and his family dancing in masks, as well as him wiping his dog with a disinfectant wipe.

"Quarantine life/ Quarantine life/ Killing that corona with a Clorox wipe/ It's lonely inside/ But we're gonna survive."

To watch the entire music video, click here.