

Christine Caine Urges a Generation to 'Rise Up' Against This Demonic Stronghold

At Passion 2018, Christine Caine spoke to thousands of millennials about the spiritual stronghold of shame—and how the devil has used that trick to stop God's people since the beginning of time. She instead urges them to rise up, saying, "If you don't know what God says about you, you will believe the lies of the enemy." The full sermon is available here.