

Chuck Pierce Prophecies: The End of America as We Know It Is Near

Chuck Pierce, who has a strong track record in prophetic ministry, predicted years ago that China would become a world menace. Pierce now has very disturbing news about the future of the United States as we know it.

Pierce has written several books on prophecy, including The Passover Prophecies (Charisma House 2020), Releasing the Prophetic Destiny of a Nation (Charisma House, 2005) and his newest coming out in August titled, Perspective: How to See the Future God Has for You.

But it's his prophetic word that God imparted to him 14 years ago that has a lot of people in the kingdom buzzing. In a recent videocast with Cindy Jacobs and Mike Jacobs of Generals International, Pierce prophesied that the United States will soon undergo a major split, with less than less of the 50 states coming together under one flag.

"For the U.S., I only see a maximum of 23 states aligning," Pierce says. "God showed it to me in 2008. I do not see what we call the United States ending up looking like [50 states]."

In a startling revelation, Pierce says believes Washington, D.C., was never meant to be the center of this nation, and that a new nation's capital will emerge.

"God showed me a capital arising out of San Antonio," Pierce says. "There are other places [where] we will see new alignments occurring."

When asked whether all of America will turn back to God or not, Pierce said, "No. All of America I don't think will turn.

God didn't show me [that]. He showed me 23 [states], which is less than 50% of it turning."

Pierce predicted that states who align with God will also align with God's people.

"The states in covenant with the Lord are those states that have an understanding of the God of Israel," he says. "We have the certificates of states that have aligned with Israel, and it's about 20-plus right now. And that's going to be our telling point in days ahead."

Pierce reiterates often that he's not a "doom and gloom prophet."

"I do think revival's coming," Pierce says. "I think there's going to be an incredible move of Holy Ghost in America. There will be miracles and signs and wonders, but I also know that in the midst of any move, there's a great threshing that goes on. And I see America being threshed ..."

 The videocast also included MorningStar Ministries CEO Chris Reed, who, similar to Pierce, revealed an astonishing prophetic dream God had recently given to him about America's future. For more on that, please read this article on Charisma News.
