

Chuck Pierce Prophecies: 'Watch the Current! Listen to My Voice Calling You Forward'

Follow My River and Watch the Currents!

The Lord says, "This is a time you are to walk on the waters. The circumstances around you are trying to pull you down and cause a swell to come against you. However, this is your time to walk upon what would cause you to falter and fail.

"Watch the current ... for the waters are not still at this time. Watch the current ... or you will go in a direction from which you have difficulty removing yourself. Watch the current ... for if you will stay on top of the water, you will see your way to the next shore.

"My voice is on the waters. My voice called Peter out of the boat and had him stand on the water. Listen for the voice that is calling you forward in your circumstances this week. Don't submit to a flooding current that would drag you to a place you don't need to be.

"My call to you is very personal. Hear Me call your name so you can begin to gain direction. I am calling your name to show you the way. If you listen for My voice, I will pour out what you never could have imagined. Like My call to Abraham going up to sacrifice Isaac on Mount Moriah, I am calling you into an understanding and a sacrifice you've not had before. When you present this sacrifice, it will shift your supply lines properly.

"Listen carefully as I begin to tell you the one thing I would have you do this week. Don't complicate or overthink it. I will tell you one simple thing, and when you obey Me it will cause you to receive the next piece to your puzzle."

Walk the Waters and Claim What is Unclaimed

“In past seasons, I’ve called you to walk the land like Abraham and claim it. But this is a season that I’m calling you to walk the waters and claim what is unclaimed in the waters. Know that there are going to be new assignments to the waters at this time. I’m calling you not to just walk the borders of the water, but to literally walk the waters from the east to the west and from the north to the south. I am now calling you to speak the order into what has been unclaimed from the depths of the wells that I spoke into order. I am calling you to speak the order into the water and walk out what is not in order in the water, to bring things into My order.”

Go Up and Not Under

“Follow the river you are in, and watch the currents! Don’t get into currents you shouldn’t be in. Don’t be pulled aside and listen to every little thing that can divert you and take you in a wrong direction. You don’t need to be concerned over every little strange thing that’s around you. Rather, follow the river and watch the currents.

“Listen to My voice to keep you walking through the place you’re in, and then come up—not under. As you come up, I will give you the new piece that is necessary for you to see clearly how I will provide in the future.” {eo}
