

Could This Be Why Teenagers Are Killing Their Peers?

“We don’t have a gun problem; we have a sin problem,” Pastor Shane Idleman says. In the wake of so many school shootings, parents and students alike are crying out for justice. But there’s more happening than meets the eye, and the answer isn’t as simple as new laws. Idleman ties in the increase of violence to what kids are watching. Take a look.