

Does This 'Minor' Catastrophe Prove That the Great Flood Really Happened?

On May 18, 1980, Mount St. Helens erupted, providing geologists with firsthand data on the catastrophic effect an event like this can have on geology.

This one eruption challenged the theory of evolution. Does this one minor catastrophe prove Noah's flood is real?

Watch this video and form your own opinion. {eoa}

David Rives is a seasoned pro with 10 years of experience in TV and radio. He is the creator of 230 sort video features on science and the Bible.

Read articles like this one and other Spirit-led content in our new platform, CHARISMA PLUS.