

Dr. Michael Brown: Should This Transgender Principal Resign From His Job?

Are transgender people born that way? That's the question Dr. Michael Brown raises in this video clip from his radio program. He brings up a recent news story about an elementary school principal who came out as transgender in a letter to the school. While Brown says he's compassionate toward the man, he says he has concerns about the children. Watch to hear why.