

First-Ever Streamed 2020 GMA Dove Awards Soars Above COVID-19 Restrictions

The 2020 GMA Dove Awards found a way to soar above the COVID-19 restrictions with its first-ever online celebration of Christian musicians on Oct. 30.

The evening heralded performances by fan-favorite artists such as Jeremy Camp, Leeland featuring Mandisa, and Tasha Cobbs Leonard.

Since 1970, the Gospel Music Association has highlighted standout performances by the best of the Christian music scene.

The night's biggest awards went to for KING & COUNTRY for artist of the year, We The Kingdom for new artist of the year, Tasha Cobbs Leonard for gospel artist of the year (presented by SoundExchange) and Joseph Habedank for southern gospel artist of the year.

If you missed the online streaming, watch the full ceremony from TBN here and check out the list of winners—with extras not included in the TBN broadcast—here.

And make sure to catch for KING & COUNTRY's electric performance featuring rapper Lecrae with their song, "Amen" here.