

Francis Chan Used to Be Cessationist—Here's Why He Changed His Mind

Francis Chan was told growing up that the supernatural and the gifts of the Spirit weren't for today. He didn't understand why, based on his Bible, but he believed it. He even taught a sermon series on Acts, which he now calls the "worst sermon series in history" because of his omission of the Spirit. But now his entire perspective has changed. He explains his journey in this fascinating sermon.
