

His Resurrection Power Is Bringing Forth Your Comeback

Recently I heard the Lord speaking over many people: "It's My resurrection power [that's] bringing forth your comeback."

I saw many men and women who have been in a time of great shaking and breaking, feeling as if they've been "knocked out" or disqualified. The day-to-day fight has been exhausting and has left them living in a place where they are constantly fighting the strong urge to withdraw.

The Lord began to show me that the hearts of many have been fractured as well. They have endured such a great "knocking around" that it has left them feeling disorientated, confused and hurt.

Then Jesus Stepped In

I then saw Jesus step in. The Light of the world shone His light into the crevices of hearts. I watched as His eyes were looking for the painful places. He was looking for the dry places. He was intentionally looking for the dead places. He was looking for the hidden places where people had withdrawn because of the intensity of the season they'd faced.

I watched as the light and love of Jesus began to flood into hearts. I began to see these hearts come to life in brightness and fruitfulness. I saw those dry and broken places healed and restored. I saw the disorientated places become places of deep revelation. I watched places of weariness become the places of a second wind and fresh breath. I watched the areas of the heart where many had felt misunderstood begin to receive the word of the Lord—that this was the season where they were being brought into context.

Shame and condemnation fell off these hearts as they were being ushered by the breath of God into new life. They were being ushered into a place of strength and wholeness, as His resurrection power was bringing forth and birthing their greatest comeback.

The Time of Diving Comeback Is Here!

I heard the Lord say, “Many feel like they have been disqualified, knocked out, misunderstood and alone, but I am speaking over them that the time of divine comeback is upon them. Many have endured much that no other man has seen; they have endured much behind closed doors. But I have seen. I have been present with these ones, and I am tenderly loving them back to life again. I am tenderly loving them back into the places of strength and conviction of who they are and what they carry.

“Where they have been looked down upon or labeled as ‘wrong’ because of what they carry, and how they carry it, I am now releasing a fresh commissioning upon them to bring them into the new thing I am doing (Isa. 43:19). [It] is going to bring not only them but their entire lives and journeys into context.”

Out of the Wilderness

The Lord continued to speak:

“Watch these ones, for they are now arising in the earth; they are coming up out of the wilderness leaning upon Me. They have been in a place of breaking and shaking. They have found My heart in a ‘depth’ and a way that many [have] not, because they are not willing to walk the narrow path. But these ones are arising in the earth, now, for the greatest comeback of their lives. They are arising [with] such deep dependency and humility to carry My heart and the new blueprint of My wisdom. And My roar will be loud upon them—with vindication, favor, provision and revelation. But also, My roar THROUGH them will bring forth the manifestation of My glory and power in ways that have never been seen.

“These ones have been criticized, looked down upon, rejected and [have] walked the path of deep misunderstanding; but they are now arising in the earth, carrying My prophetic voice and wisdom in ways that have not been seen. They will no longer be cast to the side, but they will be positioned in this hour, releasing My heart (the uncompromised vision of My heart) and [the] roar of My voice that will see My glory come [with] great weight and manifestation.

“The enemy has spent so long trying to muzzle these ones and disqualify them in what they carry, [but] that time is over. They are now arising in greater wholeness, power and strength, and My prophetic voice and wisdom will flow through their creativity and partnership with Me. It is truly time for them to take their place. They are taking their place, they are arising with their tribe and they are going forth to build with Me and in My way, not looking [to see] if it pleases man. But with eyes on Me, and building according to My way, [they] watch how My glory comes and the harvest comes.” {eo}
