

How God Delivered John Bevere From His Pornography Addiction

Before he ever became a Christian, John Bevere struggled with an addiction to pornography. When he began following Jesus, he thought it would go away—but it didn't. He even tried getting a respected preacher to pray the addiction away, but that too failed. For years, Bevere grieved his sin but couldn't get free. Then God showed him he'd been grieving for the wrong reasons. He shares his testimony in this video.