

How Making This Choice Will Bring Forth the Dreams Inside You

Do you know there are pent-up dreams and plans inside you that God wants to come forth? If you feel God has forgotten you, left you behind or does not care about the dreams you have because it seems like He is silent, you may just be looking in the wrong places. This episode of Engaging Heaven Today with James Levesque on the Charisma Podcast Network will show you the key to birthing a new season in your life.

The first thing host James Levesque says we have to realize is, "You have a major part to play in the promises being fulfilled in your life. And that part is to think on His faithfulness."

Even though God can do everything, in His great love for us, He desires that we be included in the process. Levesque says, "He gives us the seed. He gives us the implantation of faith, and we have to cultivate the atmosphere to see it grow."

Learn from the biblical character of Sarah, whose heart's desire was fulfilled from her choice to think on and rest in His faithfulness, by listening to the full podcast here. {eoa}
