

How She Went From One of the Nation's Youngest Planned Parenthood Directors to Pro-Life Advocate

Abby Johnson was one of the youngest Planned Parenthood clinic directors in the United States, involved in over 22,000 abortions. Then she saw the horrifying truth behind Planned Parenthood—and became a fierce pro-life advocate and speaker. Her true story arrives in theaters on March 29. The movie, titled Unplanned, is by the writers of God's Not Dead. The trailer released last week. Watch it here, and let us know in the comments if you're planning to see it.
