

How Should We Respond to Those Who Sincerely Act on Misplaced Faith or Misinterpretations?

Over 1,900 years ago, Jews at Masada believed they were following God's commands, but died with those perceived promises unfulfilled. Today, many struggle when they believe God's failed to deliver on His promises to them. How can Christians cope with this difficult reality? Streams Ministries' John E. Thomas offers his take.